

GARDENING TOOL GUIDE

Shovel or "Spade" for digging holes and loosening soil

Flat Shovel for scooping soil, bark, or gravel (not digging)

Trench Shovel for digging narrow ditches for utilities

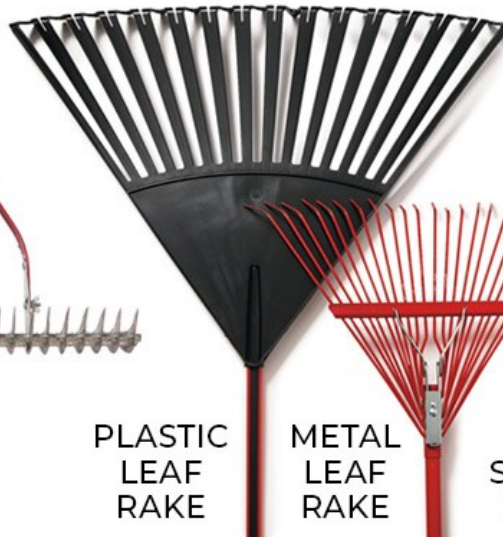

Sharp Shooter Shovels for digging post holes

Steel Garden Rake for raking soil & gravel

Thatch Rake for removing thatch from lawns

PLASTIC LEAF RAKE

METAL LEAF RAKE

SHRUB RAKE

Leaf & Shrub Rakes for raking up light weight leaves and twigs, NOT soil or gravel

Hula Hoe or Stirrup Hoe for removing surface weeds

Hoe for removing weeds and turning over soil, NOT digging

Potato Fork for raking soil and helping harvest potatoes

Edger for putting a sharp edge on beds

Manure Fork for lifting manure, straw, brush, and wood chips, NOT for use digging or in the dirt

Pitch Fork for lifting hay bales and carefully loosening soil

Hand Pruners for cutting branches less than 1 inch, avoid dirt contact and moisture, sterilize between uses

Loppers for cutting branches 1+ inches, avoid dirt contact and moisture, sterilize between uses

Hand Weeder Tools for removing deep rooted weeds with leverage, insert next to weed and pry up

Japanese Hori Hori Knife used for digging weeds and cutting apart roots in the soil

Hand Trowels for digging small holes to plant in, remove weeds, and to transplant small plants

Spray Nozzle for watering with adjustable spray patterns, turn off hose when not in use

Watering Wands for extending the hose reach to water around the base of plants or high up in hanging baskets with adjustable spray patterns